Notes:

"I Saw Her Standing There" is a song by the English rock band the Beatles credited to Paul McCartney and John Lennon, but written primarily by McCartney. It is the opening track on the band's 1963 debut album Please Please Me.

In December 1963, Capitol Records released the song in the United States as the B-side on the label's first single by the Beatles, "I Want to Hold Your Hand". While the A-side topped the US Billboard chart for seven weeks starting 1 February 1964, "I Saw Her Standing There" entered the Billboard Hot 100 on 8 February 1964, remaining there for 11 weeks, peaking at No. 14. The song placed on the Cashbox chart for only one week at No. 100 on the same week of its Billboard debut. In 2004, "I Saw Her Standing There" was ranked No. 139 on Rolling Stone's list of the 500 Greatest Songs of All Time

On the album, the song starts with a rousing "One, two, three, four!" count-in by McCartney. Usually count-ins are edited off the final audio mix; however, record producer George Martin wanted to create the effect that the album was a live performance.

1. Well she was just seventeen, you know what I mean,
And the way she looked was way beyond compare.
So how could I dance with another, oooh
When I saw her standing there.

2. Well she looked at me, and I, I could see,
That before too long, I'd fall in love with her.
She wouldn't dance with another, oooh
When I saw her standing there.

Bridge

Well my heart went boom when I crossed that room
And I held her hand in mine.

3. Whoa we danced through the night
And we held each other tight
And before too long I fell in love with her.
Now I'll never dance with another, oooh
Since I saw her standing there.

Repeat Bridge. Repeat Verse 3. Then:

Oh, since I saw her standing there.
Yeah well, since I saw her standing there.
